

CITATION DISMISSAL

You MAY NOT pay ONLINE if you wish to have your citation dismissed by taking the Drivers Safety Course or by doing the Deferred Disposition option.

Driving Safety Course: You may be eligible to have your traffic citation (moving traffic violations only) dismissed if you request defensive driving on or before the appearance date on your ticket. You must not have had a ticket dismissed within the 12 months preceding the date of your citation, and you cannot have been speeding more than 30 miles over the speed limit or in a construction zone when workers were present. You must present proof of valid insurance and a current Texas Driver's License. You must pay to the Court the applicable court costs ($109.10 or $134.10 in school zone) on or before your appearance date and complete a Driver Safety Course (defensive driving) and return the certificate of completion to the Court within 90 days. Failure to take the course in the allowed time or failure to return your certificate of completion will result in your having to pay to the Court the amount of the original fine and penalty, a final conviction will be entered on your driving record. You are not eligible for this dismissal if you carry a commercial driver's license or if your violation occurred in a construction zone with worker's present.

Deferred Disposition: You may be eligible for deferred disposition if you make a request on or before your appearance date, pay all court costs, and post a bond in the amount of the fine assessed by the Court (usually twice the amount of the normal citation fine.) If under age 25 you must also complete a Drivers Safety Course. Deferred disposition involves a 90-day probationary period during which you must not receive additional citations. If the probationary period is successfully completed, the citation is dismissed and the special expense equal to the posted bond is imposed. If the probationary period is not successfully completed, a fine equal to the posted bond is assessed and a final conviction will be entered on the record. You are not eligible for this dismissal if you carry a commercial driver's license or if your violation occurred in a construction zone with worker's present.
