CITY APPROVES BETHANY HOME DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Earlier this summer, an agreement between the City of Lindsborg and Bethany Home Association was reached for the development of the first assisted living facility to be constructed within the community. Located on East Swensson between the Subway restaurant and the First Baptist Church, Bethany Home has started construction of the first phase of the facility which will accommodate up to 24 residents. Negotiations on the phased build-out took place over several months, as needed infrastructure agreements, the consideration of the future use of adjoining property, and the requirement of an approved Master Development Plan all had to meet the approval of the City Council and Bethany Home Board of Directors.

Beginning in December 2011, city staff worked with Bethany Home's design team from GLMV Architects of Wichita, later joined by Baughman Company, an engineering firm specializing in land planning, also of Wichita. The first challenge was to clarify the City's zoning requirement for institutions to provide long term master planning in any new developments within the city limits. The form and presentation of a Master Development Plan was agreed upon, and an aggressive schedule of approval by the Planning and Zoning Commission was established in an April 3, 2012 meeting. The goal was to have final P & Z Commission approval at the regular June meeting.

At the same time, the Public Works Department worked with Baughman to design the necessary infrastructure needed to accommodate a future build-out of no fewer than four residential phases. The first assisted living phase will be followed by a second, identical 24-resident assisted living phase (see Exhibit A). The third phase will include a 64-bed skilled care facility and a chapel. The final phase of independent senior housing may include up to 36 individual units. The design and cost of electricity, water and sanitary sewer needs were considered, along with handling storm water runoff in a particularly flat part of the city's terrain.

City staff also worked with the design team and representatives of Bethany Home to negotiate a Development Agreement to address the costs of construction in a manner beneficial to both parties. Concerns for the future development of the residential area known as Sunflower Meadows were considered, and a land swap was arranged that allowed access to the areas north of Bethany Home's development while providing storm water detention easements on city-owned property.

The long process began to culminate with the presentation of the Bethany Home Addition Plat at the Planning and Zoning's June 19 regular meeting. The Board approved the Plat and sent it to the City Council for adoption. When the Council met two weeks later on July 2, they unanimously passed the Plat, the Development Agreement and the Grant of Drainage Easements. Many hours of discussion, analysis and negotiation had finally paid off.

Assisted living facilities provide valuable support to a growing segment of the population, and the City of Lindsborg salutes Bethany Home in its effort to build and administer the first of its kind in the community. Work is expected to be complete in 2013. See Exhibit A on page 3

Andrew's first professional position was as the Program Supervisor for the Coffeyville Recreation Commission. He took that job to heart and enhanced several established programs as well as initiating new opportunities for the citizens of Coffeyville.

In 2010, Andrew married the love of his life, Nicole, whom he met while attending ESU. Nicole is a surgical nurse and is currently employed by Salina Regional Health Center.

Although Andrew has a busy work load, he is active in both the Kansas Recreation & Parks Association and the National Recreation & Parks Association.

Andrew states, "It is a great opportunity and a tremendous honor to be able to help the citizens and youth build their recreation program. I look forward to working with the city team and the citizens to achieve the goals for the program."

Holly Lofton

As we head into the month of November, we have an opportunity to stop and think about the blessings that have been granted to us this year.

Today, I am mindful and grateful for the wonderful opportunity that I was given to serve as the librarian of the local library. I am grateful for the chance to meet, interact with, and serve many members of our community. I loved every minute of my time!

Now, as the new director of the CVB, I am once again reminded of the opportunity I have been granted to work with an extended group of community members who continue to teach me more about the history and heritage of the community that my husband and I chose to call home eleven years ago. When we moved here we knew so little about Lindsborg that we chose the weekend of Svensk Hyllningsfest to attempt to pull a moving van into our Main Street home. We still laugh about this! As I write this note, I am in a month full of hosting town tours, attending the Kansas Tourism Conference, grant writing, and interacting with local business men and women, again learning more about what goes on in our community and the ways that my office can best help to promote what our community has to offer.

So...in this, my first note to the community, I want to thank you for sharing your history, heritage and friendship with my family! I cannot wait to share my talents with the community that has shared so much with me.

Do You Know... About Fall & Winter Energy Savings

Pick up more tips on saving energy during the cooler months at:
www.nstar.com

Here are a few tips to help save energy and help the budget as the weather cools down:

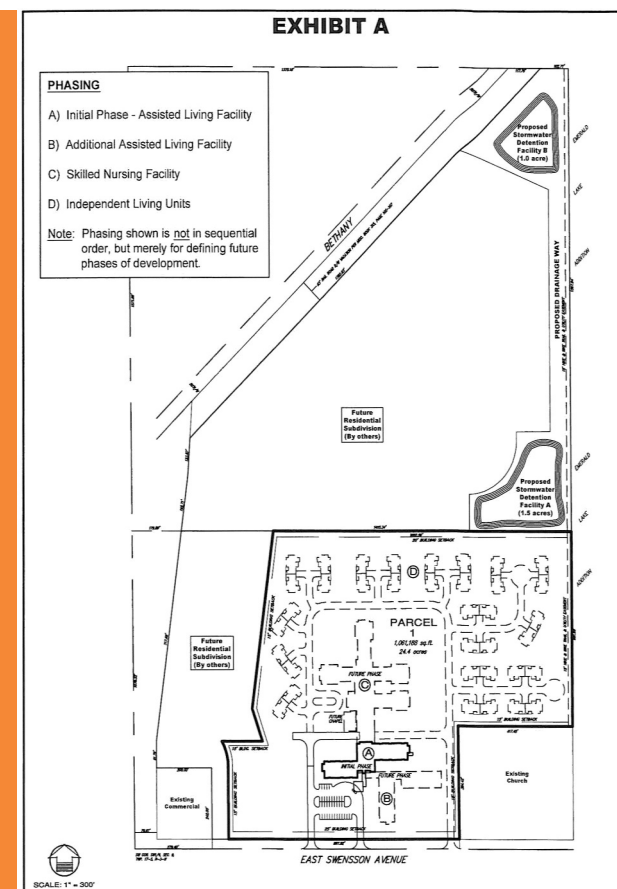

- *Set the thermostat lower than 68 degrees when you are absent from the home or when you go to bed. This ensures optimal home heating and will save energy.
- *For every degree a thermostat is lowered about 2 percent will be saved off the heating bill.
- *Save nearly 10% a year by turning the thermostat back 10 or 15° for 8 hours a day.
- *It is important to weatherize the home. Use caulking and weather-stripping on all doors and windows. Also, use locks on windows to make them tighter and draft resistant.
- *Insulate or increase the amount of insulation in the attic, basement and outside walls.
- *Cover through-the-wall air conditioners to prevent cold air from leaking into the home.
- *Reducing air leaks could cut 10% from an average household's monthly energy bill. Common places where air escapes homes include but are not limited to: floors, walls ceilings, ducts, fireplaces, doors and windows.
- *Keep shades and curtains open during the day on the south side of the home to allow solar heating, close them at night to retain heat.
- *Do not block radiators or vents, close vents and doors in rooms that are not used.
- *Have your heating system serviced once a year and replace furnace filters.

ALL ABOUT TREES

The Lindsborg Tree Board

One of the hardest working boards we have in our community is the Lindsborg Tree Board. Monthly meetings are held the third Tuesday of every month at 8:30 a.m. at City Hall. If you have any questions or concerns about the health of the trees and shrubs in our community, we invite you to attend.

The Tree Board was created to study, investigate, counsel, develop and administer a written plan for the care, preservation, pruning, planting, replanting, removal or disposition of trees and shrubs in parks, along streets and in other public areas. When requested by the city council, they shall consider, investigate, make findings, reports and recommendations upon any special matter or question coming within the scope of the board's work.

Yearly Tree Board projects include sponsoring the Tree Poster Contest with the local fifth Grade Lindsborg Middle School students, inventorying street trees within our community and organizing the local Arbor Day Celebration.

Due to their outstanding efforts, Lindsborg received the "2011 Tree City USA" award for the 27th consecutive year in early 2012. The City of Lindsborg would like to thank the Tree Board for all of its outstanding accomplishments.

Tree Board Members include Rolland Christenson, Karmon Almquist, John Flohr, Ann Keding, Bill Roth, Abner Vickrey and Warren Webster.

Annual Arbor Day Tree Planting

How to Winterize Your Trees

Preparing trees for winter is an important step in the process of maintaining and growing a beautiful, healthy landscape for your home. Many factors affect the level of care provided to different types of trees and shrubs, but here are some basic tips that cover the essential steps to good winterization.

WATER

Proper watering is a crucial factor in winterizing trees. Desiccation, or drying out, is a significant cause of damage, especially to evergreen trees like pine, juniper and arborvitae. In the winter months, needles, or leaves, transpire moisture. Injury from desiccation is commonly seen as discolored, burned needles, particularly on the side facing the wind. When extremely cold temperatures freeze the ground to a depth beyond the root system, the water supply is completely cut off from the tree. A deep soaking before the ground freezes is important, but so is watering during the occasional warm days from December to March. A slow trickle-drip is the best way to deep water a tree or shrub.

PRUNE

Winter is the best time to prune because it is easier to see the structure of the trees without their leaves. Pruning will help to form and strengthen a tree. Start by removing broken branches, then crossing branches, and finally, remove the dead branches. Don't forget to remove branches that can touch the ground when loaded with snow. Also, remove newly grown sprouts that form on the base of the tree, or along stems and branches. Pruning during dormancy avoids the shock and stress that a summer trimming causes.

Members of the Lindsborg Tree Board presented ribbons to winners of the annual Tree Poster Contest at the Middle School. Fifth grade students submitted 63 posters which were judged by the board in January. Maria Apel was named Grand Champion. Pictured Left to Right are: Rolland Christenson, Tree Board Chairman, Maria Apel, Karmon Almquist, John Flohr, and Parks Department employee Kevin Allton.

PROTECT

Putting a three to five inch layer of mulch down in late fall keeps soil temperatures warmer and prolongs conditions for root growth. Mulch provides a protective layer for newly established tree roots while providing nutrients and creating a quality soil texture as it decomposes. It also helps store moisture in the soil by slowing down evaporation. Fruit trees and newly planted trees benefit from tree wrap because of their sensitive, thin bark. Tree wrap can be purchased at garden center and it prevents damage from chewing and rubbing animals, and also reduces temperature variations caused by winter sunlight. Bark split often occurs to young trees when bright, sunny days are followed by cold, freezing nights. Damage usually shows up on the southwest side of the trunk.

FERTILIZE

Late fall is an excellent time to fertilize trees. Nutrients are slowly absorbed by the roots during the winter months and are then available to the plant as soon as spring returns. Fertilizer is not plant food. Plants use water, carbon dioxide, elements from fertilizer and energy from the sun to produce their own food. It is very important to wait until leaf drop before applying fertilizer because doing it too early can stimulate new growth if warm temperatures linger later than normal. New growth in late fall will not have time to harden off before especially cold weather, and will die. Fertilize by top dressing over mulch applied around the base of trees. Larger trees benefit from fertilizer placed out to the canopy's edge. Try to use a balanced formula, specifically labeled for trees and shrubs, or one with a relatively low concentration of nitrogen. Read the label for application instructions, as each formula is different.

Weather Radio Program Continues

The City of Lindsborg continues to distribute weather radios to the community. This popular program provides one free radio to each household and business.

The First Alert Weather Alert radio receives all seven NOAA weather and hazard channels as well as AM/FM bands for daily radio use. Completely portable and easy to use, the WX-17 comes with a 120 volt power adapter and has four AA-battery back-up for use during power outages, which residents are encouraged to purchase and install.

To receive a free radio, residents must fill out an application form, available at City Hall, which asks for address, contact information and signature certifying that the applicant is eligible and has voluntarily requested the radio. The program is expected to only continue through the calendar year, so residents are encouraged to apply.

CONVINCING TOURS

Gratitude towards our downtown...

During this past summer we developed an idea of a downtown walking tour for tourists to receive a brief overview of Lindsborg. In recognition of the multi-generational tour guides that instantly jumped aboard, we are very grateful. They can be the first face visitors see and they make our town shine. Even though the tours were not long in length, the feedback has been tremendously positive. Volunteers are truly what make Lindsborg tick. The willingness to participate and the grace in which they accomplish things are extraordinary. Thank you!

Also, we cannot express enough gratitude to all the business and organizations of Lindsborg who pitch in tirelessly with their time, fantastic character and donations! The friendliness and the time spent to make Lindsborg a "Destination for All Seasons," is because of each of you. The appreciation we have is boundless.

GRANDPARENT SCAMS

What is a grandparent scam? Usually it is a situation where a grandparent receives a phone call from someone claiming to be a grandchild in distress and asking the grandparent to wire money. More often than not the caller is not the grandchild but a grandparent scam, and the money is actually going to a con artist. The caller claims to have encountered difficulty in another country. It could be an automobile accident, theft or arrest and they need money to get back home. The caller usually requests that the money be sent via Western Union or MoneyGam. Wiring money is like sending cash; there are no protections for the sender. Typically there is no way you can reverse the transaction, trace the money, or recover the payment from the scammer.

The scammer typically asks for several thousand dollars, and may even call back again several hours or days later asking for more money. He or she may claim embarrassment about the alleged trouble and ask the grandparent to keep it a secret.

DON'T FALL FOR THIS!!

If you get a call or email from someone claiming to know you and asking for help, ask some questions that would be hard for an imposter to answer correctly-the name of the person's pet, for example, or the date of their mother's birthday. Contact the person who they claim to be directly. If you can't reach the person, contact someone else-a friend or relative of the person. Don't send money unless you're sure it's the real person you know.

PUBLIC WORKS WELCOMES COLT TOMLIN

The City of Lindsborg has recently hired an Electrical Lineman II for the Electric Department. Colt Tomlin, brings both training and experience. An Honor Roll student at Pratt Community College in Applied Science, Electrical Power Technology, Colt also is in his fourth year of the Merchant Job Training and Safety Program for Electrical Linemen. To add to his education, Colt also has worked with Westar Energy as a summer intern, as well as for Rolling Hills Energy as a lineman. Colt is a welcome addition to the Lindsborg Public Works Department.

SNOW SEASON IS COMING

It won't be long until the temperatures drop enough for snow and ice to become a major concern, so this a courtesy reminder of the City's snow removal policy.

The basic plan for plowing is as follows:

- If the forecast for snow is two inches or less, no plowing will be done. Sanding will begin when the snow has finished;
- If the forecast for snow is two to four inches, plowing will begin when the snow has finished;
- If the forecast for snow is greater than four inches, plowing will begin at the three inch depth and continue as needed;
- If two inches of sleet fall, plowing will begin

Major routes will be plowed first, concentrating on the areas around the downtown, hospital, and schools, then radiating out. A recent development has been the McPherson County Public Works Department assisting the City with a salt pretreatment of the highways as well as Main, Lincoln and Coronado Streets. Once the plowing is in hand, sanding of most intersections will begin. In addition to what the City's does in the event of a storm, homeowners and storeowners also have responsibilities. Sidewalks must be cleared within 24 hours of the snow stopping. When cleaning snow off of sidewalks, it is best to pile what you can around the trees. Any excess snow should be piled in an open area that provides at least 8 feet of clearance.

Snow blowers may blow snow into the street only if the sidewalks are cleared prior to the area being bladed. Following a heavy snow, we will only blade the downtown area one time so that we can concentrate on the residential areas. Downtown area snow will be bladed to the center of the street. Removal depends on traffic conditions. Light traffic will allow us to remove the snow during the day. If heavy traffic is observed, we will schedule snow removal for either late night or early morning hours.

One final note, if snow is forecast and you have the option of not parking in the street, it would be better for all concerned if you didn't.
