Placerville, CA – Placerville Police arrest sex registrant, Kenneth Tincher, for annoying juvenile girls at Rotary Park.

On May 24th, the Placerville Police Department received a call regarding a suspicious adult male subject at Rotary Park. It was reported to the police department that the subject was not wearing a shirt and was watching young school girls who were at Rotary Park on a school field trip. When officers responded to the park, the subject had already left the area. Upon further investigation, officers learned that the adult male subject had been watching the children near the bathrooms at the park. At one point, the subject went inside the girls' bathroom and then left the park in a white truck. The witnesses were able to give a description of the vehicle and a partial license plate.

Officers who were on routine extra patrol at Lumsden Park located a male subject in a truck who matched the description from the Rotary Park call. The subject was identified as 62 year old Kenneth Tincher, who is a sex registrant from Sacramento County. Tincher identified himself as transient from Sacramento County, who last registered as a sex offender two weeks prior. Tincher was arrested and booked at the El Dorado County Jail for annoying and molesting children, PC 647.6 and other narcotic related charges.

“This dangerous individual is in custody thanks to the watchful eye of parents at the park coupled with good old fashioned police work,” stated Chief of Police Scott Heller.
