Placerville, CA – Placerville Police arrests convicted sex offender after he exposes himself to a female citizen on Broadway Drive.

On Tuesday, June 23, 2015 at approximately 11:50 am, convicted sex offender, Esteban Rocha, 51 years of age, came to the Placerville Police Department to register as a sex offender as required by 290 of the Penal Code and as part of his parole conditions. Rocha's registration was completed at 12:30 pm. and he left the police department. Approximately 25 minutes later, Placerville Police received a 911 call of a subject matching Rocha's description who was exposing himself to a woman in the 1300 block of Broadway Drive, a short distance from the police department. Placerville Police Officers immediately responded to the area and detained Rocha. Rocha was positively identified by the victim and arrested for the offense. Rocha was booked into the El Dorado County Jail for a parole violation and for committing an indecent exposure with prior convictions. As a reminder, information on sex registrants in our area can be found both on the Placerville Police Department Mobile App in the Sex Offender Module and on the Department of Justice's Megan's Law Page.
