Darryl Piercy presented the issues with parking in the City of Othello. The City Council has asked that the Planning Commission review the current code and requirements for parking within the City of Othello. There are many examples of parking problems that are within the City. The council did focus on the topic of multiple vehicles at single family residential. In general that is why the issue is in the Planning Commissions hands to make a decision. The outlined information in the code is mainly structured around new homes and new developments.
