CONTINUED REVIEW OF ACCESSORY STRUCTURES IN RESIDENTIAL ZONES

A refresher of where we have been and the course we will be taking over the next three months and we are very close to getting the comp plan accomplished. The next major and final element of this package is the element dealing with the current census numbers. Now that we have new census numbers available to us we need to incorporate the new numbers in to the current documents. This will help assess what the cities needs will be in the next ten to twenty years. It also helps the city decide how we will size the waste treatment facilities. Next month we will bring the census information for review and the following month we will bring draft comprehensive plan for the City of Othello, we will have it to you in May with sufficient time to review it. Rex Robbins asks about Public Comment Period it will be available online and in copies at the office. Darryl Piercy reviews the public comment process
